Mrs. SARAH WILSON,

A N D

Mrs. FRANCES WILSON,

Daughters of THOMAS WILSON, late of Stratford le Bow, in the County of Middlesex, Esq;

PERMIT me, Ladies, after the Honour I have had of assisting you in the Arts of Writing and Numbering, to furnish you with one Help more, to further your Improvement in the Art of Spelling our Mother Tongue. I have heard the Want of this excellent Accomplishment sorely lamented by the Fair Sex; but indeed there are Multitudes of our own Sex, to my Knowledge, that are every whit as deficient in this Qualification, as the Ladies; and therefore I see no Reason to lay the Fault wholly on that Side, tho' the censorious World be apt to do it. But here I have provided a sufficient Remedy, I hope, for this Defect in both Sexes, and dare very much encourage myself, that your Acceptance of this Work in the first Place, will stir up many, both to the Approbation and industrious Use of it.

It is necessary, in Gratitude, Ladies, before I conclude, to acknowledge the many Favours conferred upon myself and Family by your good Honoured Mother; whose prudent ordering her Family, tender Care of her Children, just Affection to one of the kindest of Husbands, (whilst living) joined with her Charity to the Poor, and courteous Demeanor to all Persons, set her upon a Level (at least) with the most valuable Matrons, and render her an Example highly worth the Imitation of others.

May your whole Family be long blessed with her Health and Prosperity: may yourselves live to be comfortably disposed of in the World, and become the happy Instruments of increasing the Number of those who shall be saved; and may I still have the Honour and Satisfaction of being esteem'd,

L A D I E S,

Your most obliged and devoted Servant,

T H O. D Y C H E.

P R E F A C E.

 O find so general a Defect in the Orthography of our Mother-Tongue, among Persons otherwise well accomplished, is a Disparagement to us among Foreigners, and implies either the Supineness of the People in applying themselves to obtain this Qualification, or the Want of proper Helps to make the Way easy to it. Where the former of these is the Case, I despair of remedying it any farther than the Bounds of my small Province extend: If the latter, the World is a Witness how zealously I have contributed my Mite to the public Treasury of English Learning. My small Manuel, called, A Guide to the English Tongue, has met with such Success and Encouragement, as hath far exceeded my Expectation, and even my Ambition: Witness the many Editions of it, in the few Years since its first Publication, and divers kind Letters of Approbation, from Persons intirely unknown to me, in the several Parts of the Kingdom. However, I have been made sensible by the Representation of divers good Friends, that a farther and more general Help was necessary for the Improvement and Completion of a Work so useful and beneficial to the greatest Part of my Countrymen. And though I should have been glad to see such a Performance stamped with the Authority of some Person of Distinction, both to give it a better Face, and to render it the more acceptable; yet in Defect of that, I have been prevailed upon to go through this Work, and now (such as it is) to present the Public with it.

And I must take the Liberty to tell the Critics, that this Collection has been a Task of more Pains, than they may imagine; the Dictionaries now extant being commonly either irregular, or wanting many necessary Words, or abounding with Words obsolete, or with such Terms of Art, as ought to be handled separately by a Master in those Faculties; wherein they are used. I have been at the Pains also to compare Foreign Words with their Originals, in order to fix the right Spelling of them; and in that Search I have discovered, that our Language, over and above what it owes to the Ancients, is much indebted to the Italian, but more abundantly to the French, which I attribute to the Norman Conquest. However, 'tis plain, though this Borrowing from the foreign Languages is, for the most Part, both an Ornament and Enrichment to our own; yet it renders our Spelling more difficult; insomuch, as many of those Words are now politely founded after the foreign Way, which is very different from that harsh and uncertain Method, whereby the English is pronounced.

I beg Leave to insert a few Particulars, necessary for the Perusers of this Book,

1. The Participles, (ed) and (ing) are generally omitted, because they would swell the Book too much, and they are easily formed from the Verb itself; as, mark, marked, marking; learn, learned, learning. Only mind, if the Verb have (e) final, that (e) must be left out; as, approve, approved, approving. If any be not formed in this Manner, they are inserted in their proper Places; as, give, given; bind, bound.

2. For the same Reason also, Comparatives in (er) and Superlatives in (est) are left out, those Endings being easy to be annexed, by Persons of the meanest Capacity; as, kind, kinder, kindest; slow, slower, slowest. The Irregulars may be found in their Order: And (e) also must be cut off; as, brave, braver, bravest.

3. By the Leave of my good Friends, the Printers, and Correctors of the Press, I would propose not to use many Letters in a Word, when fewer may do as well. Hence (ck) need not be together in the End of such borrowed Words, as, concentric, Lyric, magnetic: But I retain it in all English Words for Antiquity's Sake. One (l) may commonly serve at the End of a Word, as well as two; so I hope the Liberty I have taken that Way may be pardonable. I think also, that (e) final may be left out, when it does not lengthen a Syllable; as in doctrine, rapine, humane, handsome, &c. which may better and more expeditiously be written, doctrin, rapin, human handsom.

4. Y is a good old English Closer of Nouns, Verbs, and Adverbs; but I observe, 'tis customary to change it into (i) when any farther Ending is added; as, heavy, heavily, heavier, heaviest, heaviness. Yet a Verb keeps it to a Participle in (ing) only; as, levy, levying, levied; bury, burying, burial, buried. Yet the Compounds of (ie) keep (ie,) as crucifie, magnifie.

5. There are some Words sounded so differently from their Letters, that I think the best Way would be to spell them by the Ear. For Instance, I approve these Words, Count, account, accountant; gage, gager; Lieutenant, skeptic, skeleton, rather than Compt, accompt, accomptant; gague, gauger; Lieutenant, sceptic, sceleton, as they are commonly written.

6. Latin Substantives in (-or) are become English ones in (-our;) though I think that (u) to be unnecessary, because, when the Word increases, it drops; as, humour, humorist, humorsom.

But to propose my single Opinion against the public Vogue, I must confess, is a hazardous Enterprize; for Custom will bear a Man down, unless he find a good Number of candid Friends to support him. To such I commit my Cause, so far as they shall think reasonable to defend it, and shall always be glad of their kind Admonitions; but, for fear I may already have exceeded my Bounds, I shall offer no more Remarks at present. But all such Persons as want Help or Instruction in the true Use and Meaning of Words, as well as in the right Spelling, may be fully informed by the New General English Dictionary, lately Published, and Advertised at the End of this Book, which I recommend to all such, as the most perfect Guide for that Purpose yet extant.

The Peruser will observe, that over the Monosyllables there are no Accents, because they need none.

1. A New General English Dictionary; peculiarly calculated for the Use and Improvement of such as are unacquainted with the Learned Languages. Wherein the difficult Words and technical Terms made use of in Anatomy, Architecture, Arithmetick, Algebra, Astronomy, Botany, Chemistry, Divinity, Gardening, Grammar, Hawking, Heraldry, History, Horsemanship, Hunting, Husbandry, Law, Logick, Mathematicks, Mechanicks, Military Affairs, Musick, Navigation, Painting, Poetry, Rhetorick, Sculpture, Surgery, &c. are not only fully explain'd, but accented on their proper Syllables, to prevent a vicious Pronunciation; and mark'd with initial Letters, to denote the Part of Speech to which each Word peculiarly belongs. To which is prefix'd, a compendious English Grammar, with general Rules for the ready Formation of one Part of Speech from another; by the due Application whereof, such as understand English only, may be able to write as correctly and elegantly, as those who have been some Years conversant with the Latin, Greek, &c. Languages. Together with a Supplement of the proper Names of the most noted Kingdoms, Provinces, Cities, Towns, Rivers, &c. throughout the known World. As also, of the most celebrated Emperors, Kings, Queens, Priests, Poets, Philosophers, Generals, &c. whether Jewish, Pagan, Mahometan, or Christian; but more especially such as are mentioned either in the Old or New Testament. The whole alphabetically digested, and accented in the same Manner, and for the same Purpose as the preceding Part; being collected for the Use of such, as have but an imperfect Idea of the English Orthography. Originally begun by the late Rev. Mr. Thomas Dyche, Schoolmaster at Stratford le Bow, Author of the Guide to the English Tongue, the Spelling Dictionary, &c. And now finish'd by William Pardon, Gent. The Eighth Edition, with the Addition of several Market Towns in England and Wales; giving a general Description of the Places, their Situations, Market Days, Government, Manufactures, Number of Representatives sent to Parliament, Distance from London, both in computed and measured Miles, &c. Price 6 s.

2. Dyche's Guide to the English Tongue. In two Parts. The First, proper for Beginners; shewing a natural and easy Method to pronounce and express both common Words and proper Names; in which particular Care is had to shew the Accent for preventing vicious Pronunciation. The Second, for such as are advanced to some Ripeness of Judgment; containing Observations on the Sounds of Letters and Diphthongs, Rules for the true Division of Syllables, and the Use of Capitals, Stops, and Marks; with large Tables of Abbreviations and Distinctions of Words, with several Alphabets of Copies for young Writers. To which is now added, an Appendix, containing many additional Lessons, in Prose and Verse; first, in Words of one Syllable only; and then mix'd with Words of two, three, four, five, six, and seven Syllables. The 42d Edition, corrected. Price 1 s.

3. ——— Fables of Phædrus (who was made Denizen of Rome by Augustus Cæsar) under the following Heads, viz. The Weakest goes to the Wall: Choose the least Evil: Be content in your Station: All covet, all lose: Keep not too great Company, &c. Render'd into familiar English. The second Edition. Price 1 s.

4. ——— Youth's Guide to the Latin Tongue: Or, an Explication of Propterea quæ Maribus, Quæ Genus, and As in Prasenti; wherein the Rules are made plain and easy to the Capacity of young Learners. The third Edition. Price 1 s.

5. Dyche's

BOOKS printed for, and sold by R. WARE.

5. Dyche's Vocabularium Latiale: Or, a Latin Vocabulary, in two Parts: The First, being a Collection of the most useful and easy Latin Words, whether Primitive or Derivative, with their Signification in English, after the Order of the Eight Parts of Speech, giving a Specimen of each, and most naturally shewing the Gender, Increase, Declension and Motion of Nouns and Pronouns; with the Conjunction, Preterperfect Tense, and Supine of Verbs, both Simple and Compound: The Second, shewing the Variation and Declining of all the declinable Parts, both Regular and Irregular. The Sixth Edition. Price 1 s.

6. A new and compendious System of practical Arithmetick: Wherein the Doctrine of whole Numbers and Fractions, both Vulgar and Decimal, is fully explain'd, and applied to the several Rules or Methods of Calculation used in Trade and Business: And, by shewing and comparing the natural Dependence upon, and Agreement of, one Rule with another, the whole is render'd more easy than heretofore, and the Learner is instructed in the Vulgar and Decimal Operations together, which at the same Time demonstrates the Reason as well as the Practice of both. By William Pardon, Gent. Pr. 4 s.

7. A Natural History of English Song Birds, and such of the Foreign as are usually brought over and esteemed for their Singing. To which are added, Figures of the Cock, Hen, and Egg, of each Species, exactly copied from Nature, by Mr. Eleazer Albin, and curiously engraven on Copper. Also a curious Account of the Canary Bird; Directions for chusing them, and to distinguish it in Health; the Method of breeding them, and bringing up their Young; their Diseases, and approv'd Remedies for the Cure thereof. Price 2 s. 6 d.

8. A Description of three hundred Animals, viz. Beasts, Birds, Fishes, Serpents, and Insects, with a particular Account of the Whale Fishery. Extracted out of the best Authors, and adapted to the Use of all Capacities, especially to allure Children to read. Illustrated with Copper Plates, whereon is curiously engraven every Beast, Bird, Fish, Serpent, or Insect, described in the whole Book. Price 2 s. 6 d.

9. A Description of some curious and uncommon Creatures, omitted in the Description of three hundred Animals. In which is included, The Natural History of those great Curiosities, the Chimpanzee, Male and Female. Illustrated with sixteen Copper Plates, whereon is engraven the Figure of each Animal. Price 2 s.

10. The Young Clerk's Assistant, or Penmanship made easy, instructive, and entertaining. Being a compleat Pocket Book, curiously engraved on sixty-one Copper Plates, containing Alphabets, Copies, Poems, Fables, &c. in Round Hand, Italian, Text, &c. for the Practice of Youth in the Art of Writing. In 1 Vol. Octavo, neatly sew'd in gilt Paper. Price 3 s. 6 d.

11. A New Drawing Book of Modes, by Mons. B. Picart, on thirteen Copper Plates. To which is added, A Discourse on the Use of the Pen. Containing Observations on Writing in general: The proper Posture in sitting to write: Rules for chusing Quills, and making of Pens for different Hands, (proving that the common Methods of sitting to write, and nibbing the Pen, obstruct the Freedom of Writing); with whatever else may tend to Perfection in that Art. Necessary not only for Teachers of Writing, but for all Persons concerned in Business. To which are added, Two Alphabetical Sets of Copies, suited to a Quarto Writing Book, on the Rule of Life; and Moral Definitions; and short Copies for Text Hand, and the Use of Points, Stops, and other Marks used in Writing and Reading, with their Characters, Places, and Signification. By William Leekey, Writing-Master. The Discourse of the Pen may be had alone. Price 6 d.
